

In short, I want the maximum "protection" against telemarketers that is possible. It is discouraging to live in your own home, yet be fearful to pick up the phone because it may be a telemarketer- who are (not always) but often rude, abrasive, and persistent. This type of solicitation should be banned, and I support any measure which prohibits these types of phone calls.